Vocals

My name is Sharyssa Greene, a voice teacher currently expanding my home studio. I absolutely love to sing as well as share that love with others. I'm passionate about helping my students access their natural voice, and build strength and confidence in their own, unique sound!

I grew up in a musical family --singing since I can remember, and I fell in love with theater at a very young age. I've studied voice for over five years and currently take from Dr. Desiree Hassler, Soprano at Lyric Opera of Chicago and Voice Professor at Moody Bible Institute. In the past two years I have studied acting privately with European actress, Vanda Varnai, and during the last five years have performed in twelve musical theater productions throughout the Chicago suburbs. I've taught seven musical theater camps for Spotlight Youth Theater, and given audition preparation lessons in how to try out professionally with confidence.

I am a voice teacher at the Minooka Music Studio in Minooka, as well as teaching from my home. Styles of music I work in include standard voice literature, folk, gospel, with a specialization in musical theater and more!

I have a few openings and would love to share what I know with girls ages eight and up who are excited, and ready to learn! So whether you want to be able to match pitch, develop healthy vocal technique, strengthen your range, or grow as a performer, I am ready to help you! Please ask about available open times. 8:30, 9:00, 9:30, 10:00, 10:55, 11:25, 11:55, or 12:25.

Ages: ages 8 and up

Lesson: $240 for 12 weeks. (Can pay in two 6 week installments of $120 each)

Middle School

1ST HOUR

Medieval History and Writing: The Mighty Pen writes on!! - Returning students only

Once again, we embark on a journey through a new era. Let's learn all about the Middle Ages as we continue to hone our writing skills. By utilizing IEW's Medieval History-Based Writing Lessons we will focus on structure and style. We will work together in class and brainstorm how to "dress-up" compositions and continue to expand our vocabulary.

Parents: As always, you are expected to assist and support your student as needed. Unless approved by the teacher, this class is limited to the 5 previously enrolled "Merriment & Mirth" students from Fall 2017 through Spring 2018. This class is subject to the CCHC Academic Agreement.

Grade: Middle School
Class Fee: $70/semester. This is the continuation of a year long class
Required Supplies: IEW Medieval History-Based Writing Lessons (4th edition, February 2016), highlighters, pens, binder and of course, your Student Resource Notebook (which you should all have from the prior 2 years of IEW classes).
Teacher: Marcia Boland
Workload: 5 Min/Max: Returning students only

The Mighty Pen (Fall and Spring) 5th-8th grade

Author Roald Dahl once said, "A person is a fool to become a writer. His only compensation is absolute freedom." In Mighty Pen you begin the journey towards freedom. In order to be heard and be understood by others, you will quickly build an arsenal of dress ups and decorations to add depth and maturity to your writing. You'll learn how to build great characters for stories, how to add life to a dry essay or report, and how to knock the socks off any teacher with pretty impressive vocabulary! You will walk through all the necessary steps of the writing process: pre-writing, drafting, revising, editing and sharing. Blank pages won't seem so scary anymore. After mastering 3-5 strong paragraphs and stories, you will walk out with unbelievable confidence. Class will include nonfiction writing, creative writing, editing, vocabulary, and games. *Parental oversight is mandatory for success. One hour of writing every day is generally required. Students with special needs will need a parent to accompany them. Open to new students and those with one year or less of IEW writing experience. This is multi-leveled class that will accommodate your student exactly at his/her level.

Grades: 5th - 8th
Class Fee: $70/semester. This is the continuation of a year long class
Required Materials: Student Writing Intensive Level B student handouts available as an e-book download from IEW for $10 IEW's Student Resource Notebook available as an e-book for $15 or hardcopy for $19

Not Your Grandmother's Home Ec Class

"The food doesn't cook itself." "The laundry doesn't just magically get done." "I'm not your maid." "This room looks like a pigsty." "Where are your manners?" When I was young we had respect for our elders." "Don't talk with your mouth full." Any of these sound familiar? Do you ever think someday I'll have my own place and then no one will tell me what to do? Lets shed some light on what it takes to run a household. Join me as we dust off the old home economics class of the past and give it a twist and bring it in to the 21st century. Real world skills for both guys and gals that you need to learn so you can take care of yourself someday and if you learn them now you can wow mom and dad...maybe even become their favorite child. Ok, maybe thats going a bit too far, but you just might be able to curb some of the nagging if you implement some of what you learn at home. Some of the things we will cover in class will be healthy cooking/meal planning, cleaning, laundry, sewing/mending, making phone calls/appointments, etiquette/table manners, troubleshooting repairs, and more. We are going to have fun with hands on experiences, role playing skits, and some games. Expect to bring crockpot meals home to your family. Plus by the end of the semester you will have the beginnings of a home management binder. This class will be tons of fun, plus you will be learning alongside friends and did I mention food yet? Introductory Spanish Middle School/High School

Today it is more important than ever for English-speakers to have a working knowledge of the Spanish language — the second most widely spoken language in the world! This hands-on, interactive Spanish class teaches beginning vocabulary and grammar and builds a foundation for more advanced study. This class includes songs, games and projects to practice hearing, reading, writing, and speaking Spanish in a fun and encouraging atmosphere. I will be supplying students with handouts and worksheets throughout the semester and students will be expected to practice online during the week. For those needing high school credit, grades will be given for completed assignments, quizzes and tests. Welcome to Spanish class! ¡Bienvenidos a la clase de español! This class is subject to the CCHC Academic Agreement.
